AFTER THE STORMS

Many of the islands hit by Hurricanes Irma and Maria are open for business again—and are welcoming visitors. Here's an update on those that were most affected.

The French territory is on the road to recovery. Most restaurants and shops in the capital, Gustavia, are now open. Many beachfront resorts (Le Guanahani, Le Barthélemy) are projecting reopenings later this year; some smaller properties (Le Village, Salines Garden) are already up and running. saintbarth-tourisme.com.
